Good Morning Peter,

Thank you so much for your generous donation from ABECS.

We are big believers of supporting the communities our farming families live in. Your donation will go towards helping support rural Australia.

Thank you for caring about the welfare of our Aussie farmers. The drought is not over, sadly - it continues across many rural communities of Australia and new areas have been drought-declared in 2019 in several states, which means that the number of calls to us for help keep increasing.

Some of the farming families that we directly assist have required support for several years now. It can be disheartening, but as long as these farmers continue to strive to remain on the land, we will be there too.

We are so grateful for your kind support and generosity. Thank YOU for also being there and helping us to show our farmers that many Australians care.

It means a lot to Drought Angels and the families we are supporting during this very tough time.

Kind Regards,

Cherelle Neville
